HORSE AND CATTLE BREEDING.

The Edmonton fair which is to be held on the first four days of July should be above everything a stock show. The time of year is not favorable for a show of grain and roots, but cattle and horses should be in the pink of condition. Although not a winter range country, North Alberta is still a stock country. The abundance of summer pasturage and of hay, the heavy crops of coarse grains and roots produced here, the splendid shelter and the low cost at which stabling can be erected, make the district ideal for the breeding and rearing of stock for the unlimited market of the vast range country which lies close at hand as well as for the ultimate market for the highest quality of the finished product in England and the Kootenays.

That it is one thing to merely raise stock and quite another to breed stock. The difference is between allowing the stock to run down in quality, as it inevitably must if due attention is not paid; and continually improving it by paying attention. The difference again is between large profits, and possibly no profits at all. With the unlimited demand for young stock for the ranges there is no other part of the world so favourably situated for making a profitable business of the rearing of such stock, and indeed this ready market has a ready been the strong stand-by of the district for years. All things considered comparatively little has yet been done towards the improvement of either cattle or horses. In no part of the Territories has that general interest been taken in the breeding of good stock that the importance of the question deserves, and probably in no part has less attention been paid to the region immediately surrounding Edmonton.

The Northwest government has been so impressed with the importance of continued effort that it has taken steps towards the formation of two Territorial associations having for their objects the improvement of stock. The associations are "The Territorial Purebred Cattle Breeders' Association" and "The Territorial Horse Breeders' Association." The objects of each association are to encourage improved breeding by bringing together those who are interested for the interchange of information and for co-operation; to take such steps as may be possible to secure proper judging of purebred cattle and of horses at agricultural fairs; and generally to work up an interest on the part of the people of the Northwest in the stock growing industry. The commissioner of agriculture for the Territories and the live stock commissioner of the Dominion government are members of the directorate of each association and take an active personal interest in forwarding the objects of both associations. So far the Edmonton district has taken no part in the membership or proceedings of either association, although there is no part of the Territories which stands to benefit more—so much by their operation. At fair time would be a fitting opportunity to get the farmers from all parts of the district who take a special interest in stock raising, together for the purpose of forming a North Alberta branch of each association and discussing points of special interest. In this particular section of the country, which by reason of situation and natural conditions should be the breeding ground for purebred cattle and horses for the rest of the Territories. There is no question as good thoroughbreds can be raised under the conditions prevailing here, and as cheaply, as in Ontario, and the freight, and cost of purchase makes a big percentage in favor of the Northwest grower. It is to be hoped that the opportunity of the fair will not be allowed to pass without being taken advantage of to have at least a meeting for discussion whether by those interested, with a view to permanent organization and useful work.

HAY CUTTING.

Notice has been given by the land agent Mr. B. H. H. that owing to the early maturity of the hay crop in the Edmonton district the date for commencement of cutting on government land has been made July 10th, instead of July 25th, as formerly.

Regina Standard. The promotion of Staff Sergeant Heffernan to the position of inspector in the N.W. M. P. is well merited and should be popular inasmuch as it is a departure from the custom of importing inexperienced men with no qualification but their "pull" to fill the best positions on the force. Inspector Heffernan has our most hearty congratulations.

ELECTION ACCOUNTS.

Government employment is supposed to be sure pay. For this reason it usually has a preference. But the experience of those engaged in the work incident to the last general elections is calculated to change any such opinion. The elections were held on the 7th of November. The greater part of the work was necessarily done before that date. Only now, seven months after the work was completed, are the cheques being issued, and in most cases for less than half the amount of the bills rendered. If the delay of seven months were being followed by fair payment the case would not be so bad. But to delay so long and then pay less than half the bill, giving no reason why it has not been paid in full, nor indicating what the intention is regarding the balance, is doubling the injury and adding insult as well. That the men so dealt with feel wrath against the government and against its officials and supporters, is the most natural thing in the world. In discussing the question it is well that the saddle should be put on the right horse. There is no use mincing matters. A very grievous wrong is being done to a large number of reputable citizens of the Northwest—not only in Alberta, but throughout the Territories—and the blame should be properly placed.

Although there has been delay in the payment of election accounts all over Canada, owing to the difference in the method of preparation of the voters lists, the election accounts in the Territories are much larger than elsewhere. The apportionment to the accounts of the enumerators, and it is these which are being slashed most unmercifully by the auditor-general. In other parts of Canada the voters' lists are made up chiefly from the municipal assessment rolls and little or no expense is thereby entailed on the federal treasury. But in the Northwest there is very little municipal organization, no household suffrage prevails, and the voters' lists are made up by an actual enumeration of the persons entitled to vote immediately preceding election day. This involves a personal visit by the enumerators to every individual resident in the district. For although many no property qualification is required, there are requirements as to citizenship, age, and time and place of residence, which can only be settled by personal enquiry, especially in a country such as this, where the population is rapidly increasing, and where the people are of so many different nationalities, and consequently so little acquainted with each other. Possibly the enumeration is not necessary, and possibly the rate of remuneration, offered is too great, but neither of these things are the fault of the men employed. They are required to make the enumeration under conditions which render a personal visit absolutely necessary in a majority of cases. They are offered a certain scale of pay which is not high considering that the work must be done quickly if the election is to be held, and therefore the parties who are the real losers cannot wait, every other consideration must take second place and considering further the weather of last fall, making all roads difficult and many impassable.

The matter of the expenses of the election is in the hands of the auditor-general. This officer is appointed by government with extraordinary powers to check improper expenditure. He has the authority to stop any payment from the treasury, which he considers improper, no matter who should attempt to make it—even the premier. He is clothed with special authority in the case of the general elections and no accounts connected with the elections can be paid without his sanction. Although appointed by government he cannot be removed by the government. He can only be removed by a vote of a fixed majority in parliament. He occupies a position practically as independent of the government of the day as a judge. It is intended that he should. The position was created and the present auditor-general was appointed by the Mackenzie government. He has held office ever since; on many occasions thwarting the intent of members both of the present and of the late governments in payments from the treasury. His duty is to see that money voted by parliament for a certain purpose is expended for that purpose. In other words he is to watch the government on behalf of parliament. He thus can always depend on the backing of whatever party is in opposition for the time being in criticizing or opposing a government expenditure. In the case of the election accounts he has gone outside his proper functions and arrogated to himself the right to say not only whether the account is correct or not but whether the creditor has rendered adequate value or not. Were he in a position to judge as to what is adequate value no one would quarrel with his going beyond the strict letter of his authority to save the treasury. But when he does not and cannot possibly know the conditions and therefore cannot possibly judge of whether value has been rendered or not; when he simply cuts down accounts by wholesale without giving even a shadow of a reason for doing so, though his intentions may be honest towards the treasury his actions are plain daylight robbery of the people. There is no other name for it, for the use is plainly dishonest. If the auditor-general were really honest in his dealings in these election matters, and if he thinks he is being dealt with dishonestly by the enumerators and others employed at the elections, it would be fair for him to send some person in whom he had confidence to examine the claims on the ground, as was done after the elections of 1896. But to make a cut of from fifty to seventy-five per cent in the accounts rendered without any more knowledge than he can possibly have at present is insulting and dishonest as well. The government officer who undertakes to transact the public business in that way is not fit to be trusted with the responsibilities attached to the position of auditor-general.

The cheques which have been received so far have been signed by the returning officer, and accompanying each one is a type-written slip from the auditor-general not saying why the cheque is short; not saying how the amount is arrived at; not saying what is to be done about the balance, but asking in a general way a number of more or less silly questions, without indicating whether an answer is required or not, on what is the possible result if they are answered. In almost all cases the enumerators sent in all the memoranda they had when they forwarded their accounts shortly after the election. With all their memoranda in his own hands, to ask for more minute particulars to be given from memory at the end of seven months seems more like a joke than a business proposition. But it is not a joke which the victims appreciate. Probably it would be well for them to accept the cheque received as a payment on account, and render a bill for the balance, replying as fully as possible to the enquiries made, in the hope that his august mightiness will condescend to come within measurable reach of honest payment.

The political result of the attitude of the auditor-general towards these accounts is of course as bad for the government as it can be. Men who have been robbed and insulted by an officer of the government are apt to resent it and to hold the government responsible. Although under the law the auditor-general and not the government is responsible for what has been done, there is no question that the government is responsible for the law under which it is done. The law which gives the auditor-general such arbitrary authority and permits him to use it unchecked. But there is nothing wrong with the law. The office of auditor-general is a desirable part of our governmental machinery. It is necessary that he should have large powers and that he should use those powers to protect the treasury, on occasion. The trouble is not that he uses the power but that he misuses it. As long as he holds the position he can misuse his power if he pleases. To provide for control of his actions by the government would destroy the usefulness of the office. And to make a change of occupants is not practicable at present. The elections being conducted under the authority of the present government the patronage naturally went to friends of the government. It is only friends of the government who are suffering from the action of the auditor-general. The vote of the opposition in parliament would be necessary to his removal, and the fact that he is causing friends of the government throughout the Northwest to be dissatisfied would scarcely be a reason in their eyes why they should vote for his removal. If further payments are not made on the accounts probably the best thing to be done would be for the aggrieved parties to club together and sue the government for the balances due. This would probably bring the unjustifiable action of the auditor-general before the country in the best way to secure a beneficial change.

TOWN COUNCIL.

At the regular meeting held Wednesday night there were present the mayor and all councillors except Coun. Goodridge.

The first communication taken up was one from vice-president J. B. Garvey of the Industrial Exhibition Association, asking on behalf of the association, a grant of $500, from the town towards exhibits and prizes for the July exhibition here. Messrs. D. Ross and J. H. Garvey were heard in support of the application. On motion of Coun. Morris-Henry the grant was made as asked for, it being understood that the appropriation goes toward prizes for industrial and agricultural exhibits.

W. J. Webster, who has a project to establish a woolen mill here, telegraphed from Hamilton that he had purchased a site for a plant and was prepared to leave for Edmonton soon. He asked for a copy of Bulletin sent him in regard to that voting on the by-law, to grant him a bonus takes place on the 15th inst.

Accounts of the fire brigade, in connection with the Dunlop fire, amounting to $600.00, were received and referred to fire, water and light committee. It found correct to be paid.

The brigade asked for and received the first instalment of their annual grant, $75.

Regarding the H. B. Co., big house, used as a clinic hospital for infectious diseases, the company wrote stating that before they took over it would be necessary for the town to have it thoroughly disinfected. Referred to health and relief committee.

The solicitor wrote enclosing draft copies of consolidated by-laws. It was decided to take up the matter of the by-laws at a special meeting to be held later.

John A. McDougall addressed the council on behalf of the waterworks project with which he is interested. With a view to ascertaining public feeling he explained, he and his associates had had circulated a petition that the council do not attempt to install the waterworks as a civic institution but that, if favorable terms can be arranged, his company, by giving up 175 ratepayers. The speaker asked that the council have a special meeting at which the promoters of the company would appear and lay their case fully before them. Wednesday next, the 19th inst, was set as the night of special meeting, when the petition will meet the company.

A petition for a sidewalk from the north end of Jasper avenue along the south side of 4th street to lot 49, was referred back to the petitioners for amendment. The board of works reported that the work should not stop in the middle of a block and is agreed to building the walk if the petitioners will ask for its extension to McKay avenue. This walk would run between Cuthbert's grain warehouse to H. H. Robertson's residence.

Coun. Brown, chairman of the health and relief committee, reported that the committee had rented the old stable at the white house for a store house, for $2 a year, and had the hospital furniture, etc., stored in there. The town supplies the lumber for saw/ert and the hawking Milling company fixes up the road on the flat which has been a subject of discussion for some time.

Coun. Morris reported re band instruments. These instruments found to be no use will be exchanged for the same satisfactory to the local musicians.

The matter of failure by a local medical man to report a case of infectious disease, attended by him to the town medical health officer, was brought up. The secretary-treasurer was instructed to instruct the medical health officer to lay information and have the case pushed.

The following additions were made to the tax roll:

Ball & Howard, stock, $500.00
Jas. Spout, 80.00
Frank Oliver, 300.00

By-law 212, a by-law to provide for a grant of $500 to the Industrial Exhibition Association, was read three times and finally passed.

Tenders for the sidewalk on Sixth street, from the site of the old Episcopal church to Dr. Goodwin's residence, were read from Wills & Deyhl, Jas. McCallum and Jas. McDonald. Lady Minto is interested in erecting memorial tablets over the graves of Canadian soldiers who have fallen in South Africa. Her Excellency has heard from Lord Roberts that graves are now located and identified, but he expresses the opinion that it may not be advisable to take any further steps until the close of the war. It is Her Excellency's intention, at a later period to appeal to the Canadian public for funds to carry out her patriotic scheme, outlined above. Each grave will have a tablet and the relatives of the soldiers buried therein, will be asked individually to choose their own inscriptions. Arrangements will be made for the care of the graves in perpetuity.

THE POKOKA MURDER.

Body not identified.
Two Bullet holes in the Head.
Special correspondence.
On Sunday last the body of a man was found near Asker postoffice, east of Pokoka. Yesterday Dr. Sharpe, coroner, held an inquest and it was found that the deceased was a total stranger in that community, nor is there any man known to be missing. About three weeks or more ago a heavy square built cloth cap with a peak was found near the place, and another party found a few copper coins, the "Leisure Hour" Library, Magazine, "on one of which the name 'L. C. Stamer,' was written in pencil.

The clothing of deceased consisted of ordinary knit white undershirts and drawers, a black shirt with collar attached, a red bow necktie with a black plaid stripe, new striped cottonette pants and leather braces, a black vest, a pair of cloth shoes, socks with metal tag still on and laced leather shoes. The pockets were found to contain three passes, a small square stone, several bunches of American matches, thread, buttons, etc., and a heart shaped metal tag with the words "street fair—Salamanca, Mich." stamped on one side. His coat was stampered by M. Cremer, Sons, Kalamazoo, Mich., matches were by the same firm. Stamps, Cheyenne, Wyoming. A cartridge 38 S. & W. U. M. C. The pants, "Burnham, Munger Mfg. Co., Kansas City, Mo., 36 waist, 32 length, 10 1/2." Mark on drawers S.P. There was a "Nero" cigar label in one pocket. He wore a leather belt around his waist. He was a stout well nourished young man, five feet ten and a half inches tall, with light brown hair and no whiskers or mustache. The body was buried in a shallow trench in a willow and poplar brush near a house occupied by E. K. Hulse, and about a mile north-east of Ramoth, Mich. There were no signs of any struggle in the vicinity nor of attempts to cover blood marks. The body was found in the brush were quite thick, there was no attempt to hide the grave.

Passing by on his way from hunting horses Mr. Prosser, who passed by these bushes hoping to find a turkey's nest, saw the top of the head exposed where the thin earth had been scratched away from it. The body was in a good state of preservation. Two bullet holes were found in the head, back of left ear, and a large bruise over the right temple. The verdict of the jury was "murder by parties unknown." Constable Hetherington, of Wetaskiwin, is making every effort to identify the body and discover the murderer.

COL. DENT AT EDMONTON FAIR.

Col. Dent arrived at Calgary on Tuesday morning. This is considerably ahead of the date on which he was expected and the dates of his visits to various points in Alberta have been accordingly. The following dates are now announced in the Calgary Herald:
Saturday, June 15, High River.
Sunday, June 17, Cochrane.
Monday, June 18, Maple Creek.
Tuesday, June 19, Medicine Hat.
Wednesday, June 20, Lethbridge.
Thursday, June 21, MacLeod.
Friday, June 22, Grande Prairie.
Saturday, June 23, Calgary.
Sunday, June 24, Edmonton.

It will be noted that Edmonton is now included in the list, and that the date is the second day of the Great Fair. This is a most fortunate arrangement and will give every chance to parties having desirable horses to offer to meet Col. Dent without loss of time. It is urgently desirable that every suitable horse that can be spared should be brought forward so that there may be no mistake as to the horse rearing capabilities of the district, nor the chance missed of securing the establishment of a market for what ought to be the most profitable product of the farm. The Herald states that Col. Dent, out of 44 horses in Parslow's stable, pronounced three fit for cavalry mounts and two inferior. The former were from trotting and "range" bred mares. The latter were cow ponies.

DEATH OF MRS. HARDISTY.

With the deepest regret the citizens of Edmonton learned Tuesday morning of the death of Mrs. R. G. Hardisty, which occurred at the public hospital at an early hour Tuesday after a brief illness.
The deceased was a member of All Saint's church and was prominent alike in both church and social circles. Her untimely death at the early age of 71 is mourned by many friends.
Mrs. Hardisty was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Taylor. Mr. Taylor being until lately manager of the Hudson Bay Company at Lac Ste. Anne. In 1892, she was married to R. G. Hardisty. Three children survive, one boy and two girls, one of them being a baby, only a few days old.
Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Armstrong, mother and sister respectively of the deceased, came in from Lac Ste. Anne yesterday to be present at the funeral.
The funeral took place this afternoon at All Saints' church and thence to the cemetery, services being conducted by Rev. H. A. Gray.

THE CONTRACT LET.

The contract for the construction of that part of the railway extension from the south and of the bridge to a junction with the C. & E. has been let to Malcolm McCrimmon, railway contractor, of Calgary. Mr. McCrimmon was engaged first season in railway construction work in Manitoba, and left Calgary Tuesday last to bring up his outfit and appliances prior to commencing work on the contract here. He is expected in Sunday or Monday, and work will be pushed with all possible speed on his arrival. The junction of the line with the C. & E. has been definitely settled. The line meet at Irving's, some half mile south of the present Strathcona station. The survey of this portion of the work has been completed, though the engineers are going over the ground reducing any possible curves and shortening the line as much as possible. A very small reduction in the length of the line means the saving of a very large expenditure.

Engineers Armstrong and Beaulieu are now at work on the survey of the line from the station site to the high level above which the town stands. The bridge to the station site has already been located. The station is to be on the flat just below H. H. Robertson's house. A good grade (Hillman's hill) leads up from the station to the town, making access to the depot easy for teams and pedestrians. It is now just 3/4 of a mile from a post office—360 feet more than half a mile, and just four miles and a half from the C. & E. junction. By agreement with the town the company had to build within a mile of the post office and have cut the distance almost in two.

The construction from the depot to the high level will offer the greatest difficulties of any part of the work. It will be impossible to secure a one per cent grade, such as was secured on the south side. From the depot the line bends south and runs along the foot of the hill, and then along the C. & E. It then trends north along the hill face, rising gradually with the lay of the country. The station on the line will be at the temporary, until such time as the Canadian Northern comes through.
The Canadian Northern is now 140 miles east of Fort Albany. Several miles of this have been surveyed. The company are carrying on the work here, but not with full force as their energies are at present devoted to making their connections along the lakes in time to move this season's grain.

COAST EXCURSION IN AUGUST.

With a view of securing a cheap summer excursion from the Edmonton district to the coast, P. Fraser Tins, secretary of the board of trade, has been communicating with the C. P. R. and has received a letter stating that the C. P. R. would run an excursion from Edmonton to Vancouver and return some time in August. Fare $2.50 from Edmonton; $25 from Calgary and proportionate rates from points between, along the C. & E. line. Tickets will be good for fourteen days and will permit of stop over at any point. They will be good to go by the main line and return by the Crow's Nest if desired.

TERRITORIAL GAZETTE.

The Gazette of May 31st contains the following of interest in this district.
J. D. Foster, of Strathcona, has been appointed road inspector.
Township 25, range 25, west 4th meridian has been proclaimed a local improvement district.
The following quarantine district has been proclaimed under the health ordinance on account of small pox: "All that portion of the provisional district of Alberta lying south of the southerly boundary of Tp. 24, north of the northerly boundary of Tp. 19, east of the easterly boundary of range 24, west of the fifth meridian, and west of the westerly boundary of range 20, west of the fourth initial meridian; H. G. Mackie, M. D., of Calgary, has been appointed health officer for the district comprising the following: The whole of township 48 to 58 inclusive, ranges 21 to 25, west of the third initial meridian and ranges 1 to 7, west 4th meridian."
—The furniture, etc., in use in the civil hospital has been removed and stored and the place thoroughly disinfected by Dr. McKay.
—The Edmonton club have purchased from Mr. McCauley the property on which his residence is situated, with a view to erecting a new club house at some future, indefinite date.

ABOUND THE FAIR GROUNDS.

A football ground has been levelled on the exhibition grounds preparatory to the contests during the fair.
Through the skilful labors of S. P. McCauley, Edmonton now has the fastest and best track in the west. A gauge of men have been hard at work for the past ten days, widening, leveling and grading. The track has been graded at the curves to permit of fast time being made.
Chas. Marker, superintendent of government creameries, will act as judge of butter, cheese and bread at the fair.
All the booths under the grand stand, fifteen in all, have been erected. Applications have since been received, some from Manitoba for booth privileges. Additional booths will be erected on the grounds by the applicants.
The grand stand is now completed; it is one of the best structures of its kind west of Winnipeg. From it the entire stretch of track may be seen.

SERIOUS SHOOTING ACCIDENT.

A little daughter of Wm. Anderson, of Beaver lake, was brought in to the public hospital on Tuesday suffering from a very severe gun shot wound in one leg. The child is only four months old and the wound is very severe, but so far amputation has not been necessary. The accident occurred while a brother of the child, seventeen years of age, was cleaning a gun which he did not know was loaded. A charge of shot passed completely through the child's limb, shattering the bone and scattering the flesh in a frightful manner.

MANITOBA WEATHER.

Winnipeg Tribune.
June 6th. The sectional report received by the C. P. R. division of the 29th inst. in the section. Mr. Laidman, in charge of the section, reports that the weather during the past twenty-four hours has been very heavy. The fall has been exceptionally heavy. No damage has been done, but on the contrary, if there is a frost, it will be very heavy. It has been reported, the crops will greatly benefit from the cold change. The detailed report is as follows:
June 7th. The weather reports received to-day are not of such favorable character, every point in the province having had frost during last night. At some points the frost was heavy, one point reporting as low as 10 degrees. The C. P. R. is receiving reports from every agent in the province as to the extent of the damage, if any, done. Bradford says, "5-12 degrees of frost but no damage done." The other points which had reported at noon, Keys, Resaura, Westbourne, Douglas, Macdonald, Strathclair, Burnside and Bagot, were left for home at once. "No damage to grain crops, but garden stuff will suffer." The frost has killed the grass and grasshoppers, and it will probably prove beneficial rather than otherwise to the grain.

COL. STEELE'S DEPARTURE.

Col. Steele writes from Montreal on the eve of his departure, for South Africa: "Please notify men who desired to be taken to South Africa with me that I regret that I am unable to take them with me."
The territorial assembly, a Reginald, prorogued Wednesday afternoon. Through a trifling shower of rain the lieutenant-governor and his aide-de-camp, Mr. Hon. J. H. McCauley, attended to some thirty-two bills. The closing function was unattended by the impressive or brilliant ceremonies. The members left for home at once. Villeneuve, M. L. A., arrived last night. J. W. Sherr, and Mrs. Sherr are expected to-night. Mr. McCauley went to Buffalo and other eastern points. A. S. Rowenrol came up to Wetaskiwin, his home, last night.
